

The municipality of Amulung embraced the culture of resilience as it entered the new normal way of living implementing innovative solutions to overcome the challenges brought by the pandemic. It opened the way to being flexible in adapting to the needs of people and the community, bringing new opportunities, innovations, and development goals, which led to a more inclusive municipality.

AMULUNG NAISALSALUMINA, a formulated developmental tagline, serves as a guiding light as Amulung envisions to become an Agro-Tourism City by 2040. This has been the guidance of the municipality in hauling every project, program, and activity in support of the established vision. The promotion of agro-tourism harnessed the municipality's natural resources and agricultural potential, which aims to attract tourists and provide economic opportunities. It also helps the municipality diversify its local economy by showcasing its rich cultural heritage and natural beauty.

To the new leaders that we have as a result of the 2023 barangay election, fresh perspectives and innovative approaches will spur. As the municipality soars to further the development of agro-tourism initiatives, the new leaders can give their support to ensure that Amulung continues to thrive and capitalize on its natural resources and agricultural potential. It will also enhance the municipality's reputation as a destination for cultural and nature-based tourism.

The municipality's commitment in providing effective and efficient services will be further strengthened through the exploration of innovative ways to serve the people and the community. By embracing technological advancements and implementing modern practices, Amulung can ensure that its residents receive the highest quality of services and support. The journey in achieving the depths of where the municipality now stands, entails difficulties and great challenges, but adhering to the set vision. With the support of every Amulungeño and in continuously improving and innovating our services, we can ensure that the municipality remains competitive and stays ahead of the curve. This will not only enhance the quality of life of residents, but will also create a favorable environment for businesses to thrive, fostering economic growth and stability.

Let every Amulungeño engrave in the heart that what sets Amulung apart is the desire to serve a unified and progressive municipality. Let us embrace the spirit of collaboration and cooperation to create a municipality that is resilient, forward-thinking, and responsive to the needs of its people.

Together, we can be NAISALSALUMINA NGA AMULUNG!

Historical Narrative

Once upon a time, a young Spanish missionary on his way to Tuguegarao from Lallo lost his way. It was but human for him to panic, but he prayed hard that he would be safe.

At day break, he was dragging himself out of a quicksand pit. Slapping leeches and mud off his legs, he almost fainted when he mistook a cluster Amulung vines for that snakes. Suddenly, as though to mock this pathetic gesture of weakness he heard a remote crowing of a cock. He thought that he must be near some village. Pushing his way further through under bush and leech country, he was relieved at an arroyo. Not far from where he stood, a native was clearing a tree vines, which he intended to chop down for firewood. Still dazed the missionary staggered toward the native.

“Hoy Indio! Que pueblo es este?” (Hey Indian! What place is this?)

When the native saw a desperate man’s scowl into the face of the missionary, he too panicked and groped for words to say.

Irrked by his silence, the missionary demanded instantly,

“Poor Dios Indio! Que pueblo es este?”

Since the native could not understand any word od Spanish said, he debated on the idea whether the missionary wanted to know the name of the place or the offending times. When he avoided the eyes of the missionary, a squeak came from his lips, but loud enough for the Spaniard to make out as “Am amulung” . For the convenience of pronunciation, the missionary dropped the first AM for brevity, from that time on, the place was called Amulung, meaning the vine with aroid leaves in abundance in the outlaying woods of the community.

The native whom the missionary encountered chopping wood was a settler in the village founded by two brothers noted for their pioneering spirit namely Ikik and Allan. Before the founding of Amulung, Ikik had sent his brother to explore the land north of their place. When Allan returned, Ikik and his followers moved westward to the village later to be called Iguig.

After and his group moved to a place up north formerly known as salaminan, the present site of Calamagui or salamagui. They choose to settle there because of a creek enhanced by a clear running brook and Big vine-coated tress they felled for lumber. This group of natives, except for new families who choose to settle in the outskirts of the community, he lived there until the days of the Spanish conquests.

Manuel Romero who was the Alcalde Mayor of the province officially founded Amulung on December 15, 1734. Romero gave an image of “Our Lady of Victory” to the inhabitants of this town, then a barrio of LGU. It was enshrined in its first church but somewhere in 1746. As a matter of fact, attention seemed to have been given more on this church than on the image. The reason was because it was built on the first class wood and corrugated iron sheet roofing, which lasted more than a century. Again, more attention was focused on the second church, erected on the same spot, which was 82 yards in length, 16 yards in width and 17 yards in height. Unfortunately, although this was built of a stone, it was destroyed by the storm in 1924.

Amulung had its share of the blessings and hardships brought about by the Spanish era. By virtue of a royal order No. 27 dated November 27, 1896, the barrio of Cordova, on the west side of Cagayan River, was made a separate town. Baggao, another barrio on the northern side was also separated from Amulung on the same day.

During the US regime, Amulung progressed as evident in the construction of a concrete Gabaldon building and a bridge during the term of Governor Antonio Carag.

Damages caused by the Japanese were restored with the help of war damaged payments. Conventional Amulung folks have not changed much, but they too, hope for a better tomorrow. Being the highway from Isabela, Amulung is worth an overnight stay. And rest assured, along the route to the town, are exalting scenery which have remained unchanged for hundreds of years.

Executive Summary

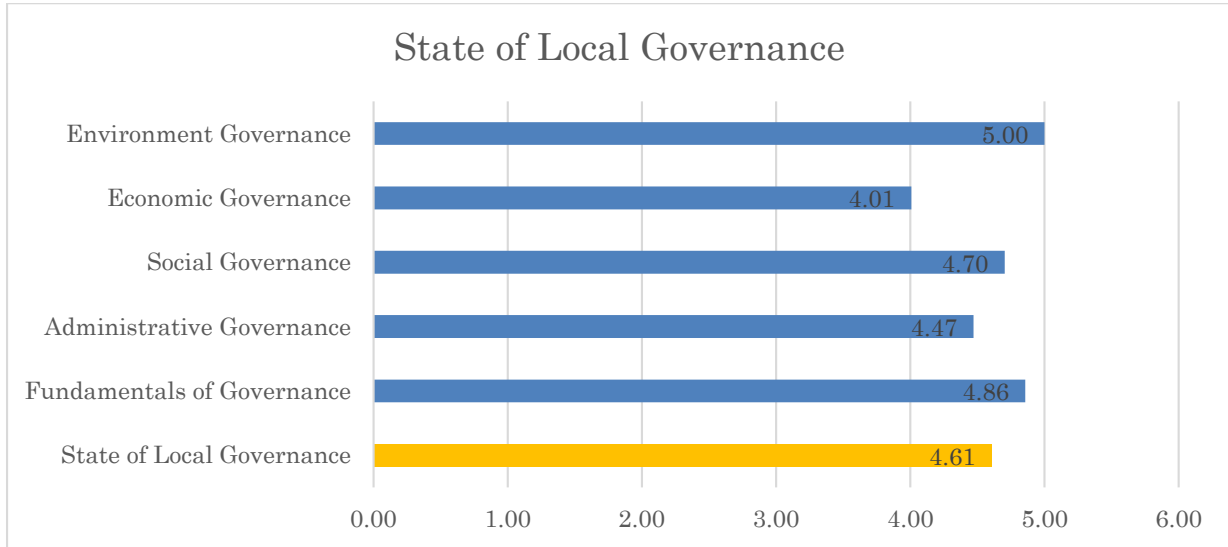

This report contains the State of Local Governance Performance Report (SLGPR) of the Local Government Unit of Amulung for the year 2023. This includes a concise overview of the progress made by the Local Government in the five (5) core categories:

- a. Valuing Fundamentals of Governance;
- b. Administrative Governance;
- c. Social Governance;
- d. Economic Governance;
- e. Environmental Governance.

It is worthy to note that the SLGPR used Data Capture Forms as a governance evaluation report method to obtain a context-specific understanding of the LGU's capabilities and strengths. The tool also reveals the barriers that prevents local government from properly implementing critical projects and programs.

Further, SLGR shows the measurement mechanism on how the Local Government Unit of Amulung faired in its administration and management towards achieving an effective and efficient local governance for excellent public service and sustainable development. The SLGPR will, however, help the LGU Amulung identify areas for development as well as ways on how it will address urgent concerns and seize possibilities for a more inclusive and responsive Local Government.

Socio-Cultural Pattern

The socio-cultural pattern of the inhabitants in the municipality consists of several ethnic cultures, namely: Itawes, Ibanag, Ilocano, and Spanish.

Itawes dialect is the most dominant ethnic group in the community, it has the most pervasive influence on the socio-cultural pattern of behavior on the population.

The Itawes group likewise has significantly influenced the customs of the ethnic group. A typical Itawes is leisurely but nonetheless petrified individual.

Similarly, the Ibanag Influence is quite the same to the Itawes whose group are closely and culturally related.

On the other hand, the Ilocanos, whose number is growing, constitute the second major ethnic group. They belong to a group thrifty and industrious people. With these, they had gained the reputation to be on equal footing with the Itawes with regards to ownership and distribution of wealth.

The Spanish culture however, has been interwoven with the cultural patterns of the inhabitants regardless of ethnic groupings, hence, they exhibit traits composite of various ethnic culture.

The typical native is one of the most hospitable among Filipinos. It is in his hospitality that lays both his weakness and strength. By this, he usually cater social gatherings for the sake of his friends and likewise butcher his only livestock whenever he celebrate the fiesta of their Patron Saint. He entertains friends and visitors well.

Moreover, the typical native is friendly, individualistic and independent. He despises being dictated on how to run his own personal affair. He is proud of himself and unwilling to concede to anybody unless dictated by good taste and propriety. Humility is not his basic trait as a member of his ethnic group.

The Amulunguenos, however, are one of the most respectful among Filipinos. Their youngster shows sign of respect to their elderly relative by placing his hand against the latter's forehead whenever he meets one. They usually greet acquaintances by their name or by the gesture of their heads. However, despite the prevailing practice of calling somebody by his first name even to one's parent, such practice is disapproved by most Filipino ethnic group.

Education is important to the Amulunguenos no matter what level of education is possibly attained by them. If he feels that elementary education is capable for him, he will secure the same nonetheless. If he feels capable of securing college education, he will pursue it just the same. That is why the literacy in the municipality is relatively greater as compared to other municipalities. Proportionate to the population of this town, the number of professionals as well as government workers of Amulung is huge. Every barangay of the town, despite of its limited economic capability, have professionals and employees to be proud of.

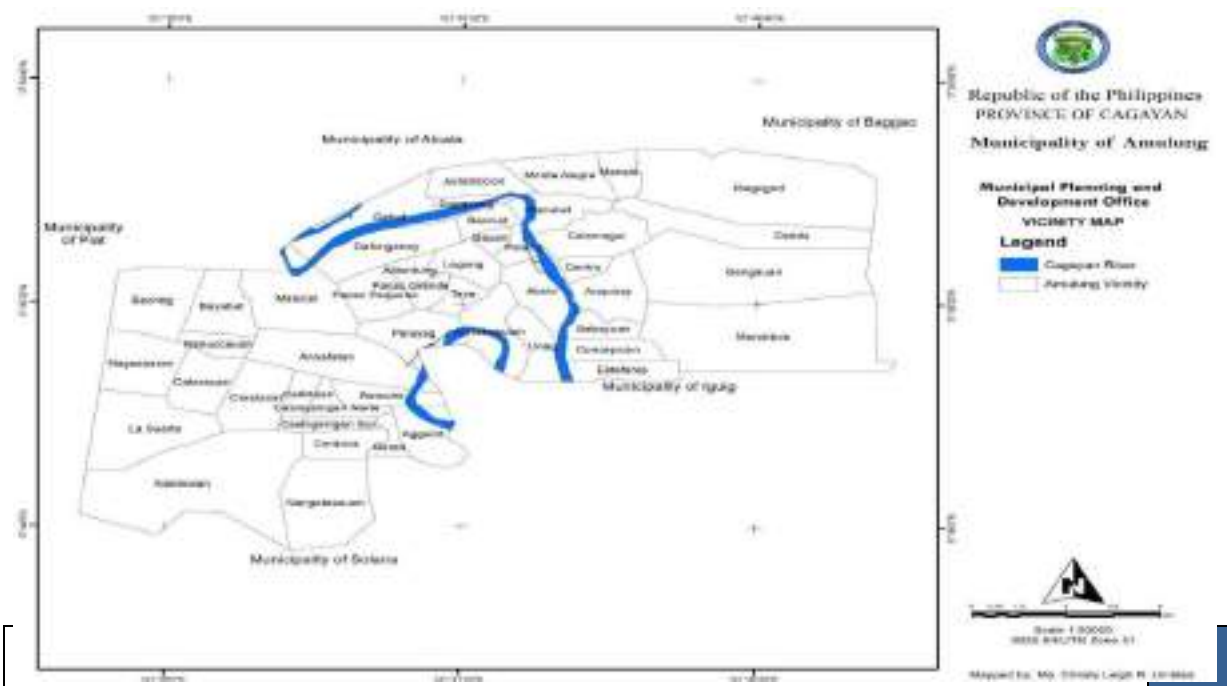

One particular characteristic of a native of Amulung is their loyalty and respect to their leader. This has been demonstrated in several occasions during the previous elections and referendum, a barangay for instance, swinging its solid vote to a candidate or issue of its preference.

Support to Basic Education from the general fund, implementation of a scholarship program, construction of extension classrooms, and hiring of extension class teachers are extended by the LGU in support of education which is funded out of the General Fund. The Alternative Learning System (ALS) focuses on functional literacy and skills training of target beneficiaries and promotes gender sensitivity, equality, and development. To note, resources, including staff and funds, are available, target beneficiaries are aware of the Alternative Learning System, and practical skills gained from the system are known to be applied by many of the beneficiaries.

3. In support of housing and basic utilities, the LGU maintains a database for the housing sector containing an updated inventory of households with access to water supply, and updated inventory of households with access to electricity.

4. In Peace, Security, and Disaster Risk Management, the Municipal Peace and Order Council (MPOC) was organized following Section 1 of Executive Order No. 773, 20092. On meetings, the POC meets as often as necessary, organized, documented, and on good performance. The LGU has an Integrated Area Community Public Safety Plan which is participatory in its formulation and needs-based priority projects which are updated annually. Projects implemented are consistent with priority projects embodied in the Plan, demonstrable and quantifiable reduction in the incidence of crimes as compared to the previous year, and incidence of crime reduced compared to last year. For peace and order and protective services, the LGU provides sites for the Police Station, Fire Station, and Municipal Jail. The organization of the Local Council for Protection of Children (LCPC) is by DILG Memorandum Circular No. 2002-121, s. 20022. The municipal government provides appropriations for the implementation of Katarungang Pambarangay, the appropriation includes financial benefits for the Lupon members, maintenance and other operating expenses, funding for the conduct of continuing education for the Lupon members, and cover expenses for capital outlays. On the number of disputes resolved, the percentage of interpersonal disputes resolved through Lupong Tagapamayapa is 80% or more, while 98% to 100% of cases resolved were sustained or not repudiated. As to functionality of Local Disaster Coordinating Council (LDCC), it is organized in accordance with Presidential Decree No, 1566, s. 1978 with the support groups and community volunteers. LDCC meetings are organized and well documented. Moreover, the LDCC integrates Disaster Risk Management in the Comprehensive Development Plan, Local Development Investment Plan, and Annual Investment Plan. Existence and ease of mobilizing the Local Disaster Coordinating Council and Disaster Action Team is through the availability of evacuation centers, appropriate equipment, relief goods, medical and counseling services, early warning system, supplies and materials, and Disaster Risk Reduction Management Plan. Services provided for disaster victims were responded with sufficient evacuation centers, relief goods and services, and first aid and medical services.

HINDERING FACTORS/ SUGGESTED PRIORITY NEEDS

1. The Local Health Board should conduct meetings as often as necessary to discuss the emerging needs and concerns to ensure timely decision making and provide efficient and effective solutions.
2. Partnerships with Philhealth to streamline the process of getting Phil health cards and to ensure that patients receive the necessary support in getting their cards.

3. LGU should extend its support in the construction of a public library which is essential in promoting literacy and access to knowledge.

A Social Ordinance on Financial Subsidy was also approved and implemented and identified or in eligible 642 PWDS had received their financial subsidies. On the other hand, the issuance of PWD IDS is ongoing including ONLINE Registration.

Select PWDS likewise undergone skills training on STRAW WEAVING as one of the livelihood programs of the PWDS.

I. SOLO PARENT WELFARE PROGRAM OR IN WOMEN WELL PROGRAM

The issuance of the SOLO PARENT identification CARDS is being ongoing and to date there are 114 solo parents provided IDS.

Likewise, symposium was conducted on March 2023 with the end goal of giving awareness to all regarding RA 9262

II. CHILD AND YOUTH WELFARE PROGRAM

There are 1,173 children 3 to 4 years old enrolled in the Day Care Centers in the 47 barangays attended by 51 Child Development Worker. There are 4 barangays having 2 Child Development Centers and worker due to the great number of employees. Unfortunately, Palacu has no Day Care Center due to the absence of 3-4 years old children. Barangay Tana had just opened their Day Care Center in the middle of 2023. Sessions to these children was conducted. Supplementary Feeding Program was provided for 120 days funded by DSWD. Moving up Ceremony was conducted in August 2023 at Robinsons Mall. Attended by all SANGGUNIANG BAYAN member, the Local Chief Executive and parents for Eastern District and for Western District it was held at the Annafatan Sub Office Gymnasium.

A. COURT RELATED AND OTHER SPECIAL ASPECTS

Two (2) persons were referred for temporary placement at the HAVEN CENTENO for Girls in Lingu, Solana Cagayan. Said, minors are victims of incestuous rape. On the other hand, minor from Masical was discharged at the CVRCY- Cagayan while another minor from Estefania.

Referred to CVRCY in Barangay Roma, Enrile Cagayan due to possession of Marijuana

During the year, six (6) minors was reported sexually molested, this case had been filed in court and Financial Assistance were provided to said victims in the amount of P10,000.00 each.

11. CLIMATE CHANGE ADAPTATION OF MIGITATION thru CASH FOR WORK Program

One of the interventions to help the needy is the CASH for WORK Project whereby identified beneficiaries will undergo Tree Planting and tree growing. this is also a one way of addressing the present problem or Global Climate Change. The DSWD Regional Office gave us a slot of 437 to undergo tree planting activity. Orientation to the said beneficiaries was constructed prior to the activity. In return they said beneficiaries were given P370.00 per day as an incentive for a period of 10 days. The tree planting was conducted at Sitio Kama in barangay Gangauan, Amulung, Cagayan. An amount P1,661,250,000.00 was distributed during the payout in 2023.
